

For Your Information.....

The first installment of Windshield Ramblings talked of opportunity. We encounter opportunities daily; we choose to say yes, we choose to say no. The choice is based on our perception of the advantages versus the disadvantages; the benefits versus the costs. Perhaps we consider long term versus short term. The decision is also based on information.

Probably one of the greatest things about the internet is the volume of information it literally 'puts at our fingertips'. I attended the Roller Derby event in Bismarck recently. (Let me say, if you get the chance, do so.) I found it very entertaining. I was sharing this anticipation with a colleague, and he inquired as to whether I'd been before and if I knew the rules. Rules? Hmmm, I suppose there are.... So, what the heck. I goggled 'roller derby rules'. Within milliseconds I had more information than my fingertips could handle. I did find one site, and after reading (not studying, not learning), just reading, enhanced my appreciation and enjoyment of this event. Did I say go if you get the chance?

One of my efforts during my tenure with the NDSRT is to enhance your appreciation and enjoyment of your profession. One tool I will use is the NDSRT website. www.NDSRT.info I want you to be able to take advantage of the opportunity, based on information thru this venue, to celebrate your Profession.

Keep visiting OUR website and hold me to my task. The task will BE to maintain an informative and up-to-date site. We've already begun this process. Information on how and what is being discussed. Priorities are being indentified, procedures are being developed and responsibilities are being defined and assigned.

Stay tuned, you will notice a change and maybe even..... An opportunity!!

As Janell Anderson NDSRT President, stated in her President's challenge, "Be the change you want to see in the world"!

I also encourage you to contact any member of the NDSRT Board, but especially me. We want to make this, "Your Society" what you want or need. I will entertain all suggestions.

Until next time, go out and get informed--- about anything!!!!

Regards,
